MOST IMPORTANT ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENTS

My fully funded PhD-project (2013-2018) was the first study on post-Galician literatures to apply comparative and transnational approaches. It provided a universal theoretical and methodological framework for the analysis of travels to historical regions that can also be applied to other regions and literatures. The monograph was published in February 2021. In addition, the project resulted in international projects, certified by organized conferences and published collective volumes: “Galizien in Bewegung”, “Imagined Geographies”, and “Continuities and Discontinuities of the Habsburg Legacy in East-Central European Discourses since 1918”. Further, my two funded interdisciplinary diploma theses (2010-2012) conducted significant basic research and for the first time examined Thomas Bernhard’s work in Krystian Lupa’s theatre. The results were published in two academic papers. My postdoctoral project “Stories of/in Transformation. Literary Narratives of Transformation and Inequality in Post-Socialist Poland” was already funded by Literar Mechana (2019) and the FWF (Hertha Firnberg-Program, 2021-2024).
